KEYNOTE SPEAKER

Danielle Frazier

Danielle Frazier is the president and CEO of Charlotte Works, which works to provide opportunities that prepare people for education and available careers while connecting businesses to skilled workers.

Her focus is the cultivation of a thriving local economy that includes effective career counseling, training and upskilling of jobseekers; developing career pathways that guide individuals through potential professions; and working with local industries to create a sustainable talent pipeline.

Danielle also led the development of NCWorks certified regional career pathways in advanced manufacturing and healthcare.
